BAY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOW WELL LAUNCHED

Meeting Held Tuesday Night at the Courthouse Well Attended—Public Shows Spirit of Co-Operation—Board of Directors Created.

There was quite an assembly of citizens of Bay St. Louis and vicinity, on Tuesday night, pursuant to a public call issued by H. S. Weston, chairman of the committee created for the purpose by the Rotary Club.

Feeling the necessity of a Chamber of Commerce for Bay St. Louis, the local Rotary Club recently went on record as favoring the formation of one and proper committees were appointed in order the effort may bear the desired result.

According to Chairman Weston's call, which appeared in last week's Echo, there was quite a gathering at the courthouse, and after the membership roll had been signed there were fifty-two members pledged, to say nothing of the many who were detained away or unable to get out.

It is easily seen there will be a minimum of one hundred members. H. S. Weston was elected temporary chairman, Chas. G. Moreau temporary secretary of the meeting Tuesday night and explained the purpose of the gathering. In asking, first, if we needed and wanted a Chamber of Commerce, Jos. O. Mauffray and Ernest J. Leonard, respectively, made earnest and eloquent pleas for the immediate formation of such club for our fast-growing and thriving city.

A committee of three was appointed by the chair, on motion previously seconded and carried, that a board of directors of twenty-five be appointed, their duties for the present to meet at the courthouse Tuesday night and to present nominations for officers and make other reports at a public meeting of the general membership on Thursday night of next week.

Members selected for the board of directors: H. S. Weston, Ernest J. Leonard, George H. Rea, Jos. O. Mauffray, Chas. G. Moreau, R. C. Engman, P. V. Lacoste, Wm. C. Cooper, Dr. C. M. Shipp, Owen Crawford, W. L. Bourgeois, R. N. Blaize, C. B. Fisher, J. N. Wisner, Dr. J. A. Evans, Jas. L. Norman, Charles Thiel, George H. Rea, Jr., Edw. Favre, Anthony Scafide, C. C. McDonald, John Osminech, Leo W. Seal, Carl Marshall.

This board has quite a task, that of organization. Will meet at the courthouse Tuesday night and report back to the general assembly Thursday night, at the same place. Before adjourning, Mayor G. Y. Blaize, Dr. C. M. Shipp, George R. Rea and E. J. Leonard were appointed official delegates to the mosquito eradication convention, which took place at New Orleans the following day, every member of this committee attending.

Bay St. Louis has long needed a chamber of commerce, with an active secretary-manager, and that such an organization is at hand at this moment, more opportune than ever, is noted with a sense of unusual gratification. The best way to support the movement is to attend every meeting. Be identified with the movement, every shoulder to the wheel means augmented force and more momentum.

ROTARY MEETING WEDNESDAY.
There was quite an attendance of the Rotary Club Wednesday evening at the Hotel Weston. Dr. C. R. Applewhite, of Jackson, and connected with State Board of Health work, was an out-of-town guest, just in from the mosquito eradication convention at New Orleans.

The meeting was usual as one of much constructive effort. To build, to render service are the chief elements of the organization. Various subjects were discussed.

WAR ON 'SQUITO' IS LAUNCHED AT CITY NEW ORLEANS

Delegates Returned From New Orleans Wednesday Night—Bay St. Louis Well Represented and Had Full Voice in All Proceedings.

The mosquito in the South is in for a hard battle. The first stick of dynamite was placed under him Wednesday night, when more than fifty physicians, city and State officials and other prominent men from Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, in the New Orleans Council chamber, voted to raise $50,000 to make a complete survey of the marsh lands of the three States.

Like the balance of the Coast, Bay St. Louis, progressive and aggressive, was well represented, doubly by a committee from the Board of Mayor and Aldermen and committee from the Rotary Club, committee from the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, one committee with three official appointments and representing the three in one. These were:

G. Y. Blaize, Mayor of Bay St. Louis.
Dr. C. M. Shipp, representing public hygiene.
George R. Rea, citizen and business man.
E. J. Leonard, president Rotary Club.

They returned home Wednesday night and reported that the day's work looked good to them. George R. Rea said: "Mayor Behrman is a wizard. As a presiding officer and doer of things, and as a worker, he has no equal of any man I know."

Mayor Blaize said: "I was glad to see Bay St. Louis so well represented, to say nothing of the balance of the Coast. Bay St. Louis was there and if anything is to be passed around in the eradication of the mosquito and any representation to be had, we will get it."

Dr. C. M. Shipp, of Bay St. Louis, director in charge of Hancock county for Mississippi State Board of Health, was accompanied by Dr. F. Underwood, executive officer of the State Board of Health, of Jackson, and by Dr. C. C. Applewhite, director rural sanitation, also of Jackson.

Dr. Shipp reports the outlook satisfactory and stated that surely results would be had.

Mr. Leonard also represented Bay St. Louis and said he never saw a body of men seemingly better equipped to meet so serious and important a situation, to solve a remedy, then to apply it. He felt confident in the ultimate success of the work.

Others at the meeting were Drs. Oscar Dowling and William Robin, of the State and city health boards; William S. Powell, development engineer for the Louisiana Southern Railroad; Dr. Howard, of the United States bureau of entomology; Dr. Thomas Fitch, of the bureau for the extermination of malaria, of Memphis, Tenn.; Mayor George Crawford, of Mobile; Dr. C. A. McR., health officer of that city; Congressman James O'Connor, and many others.

Delegates were tendered a luncheon by Mayor Behrman at the Louisiana, and the Bay St. Louis delegation were loud in the praises of the hospitality of Mayor Behrman.

The gist of the result of the convention was that $50,000.00 would be needed as federal aid in making a survey of the situation. Of the kind of mosquitoes that is proving so worrisome, breeding places, habits, etc. At the conclusion of this survey, it was immediately made, then the remedy would be applied. A complete extermination would be aimed for.

BUILDING SEA WALL AT HENDERSON POINT.
Progress of the work of building the two-million-dollar sea wall along the Harrison county riparian front is interesting. A long span of the wall in front of Long Beach is finished, and worthy of inspection.

LOCAL K. C. COUNCIL RECENTLY ELECTED INSTALLS OFFICERS

Acting District Deputy Grand Knight R. L. Genin Officiating Official. Event Followed by Supper. Visitors From Gulfport For the Occasion.

Officers recently elected by members of Pere LeDuc Council, Knights of Columbus, were duly installed Sunday night, the second Sunday of the month following election.

Although Jos. O. Mauffray is district deputy grand knight, and also grand knight for the local council, he could not install himself. A provision, however, in the council's laws takes care of such circumstance. A past grand knight of any local council, in such instance, can act for the district deputy grand knight, hence Mr. Genin, a past knight, of the local council, conducted the ceremonies incidental to installation of officers.

Newly-elected officers installed Sunday night, to serve for the ensuing year, are:
Grand Knight—Joseph O. Mauffray.
Deputy Grand Knight—George B. Boh.
Chancellor—E. J. Arceaneux.
Recorder—Henry Capadon.
Financial Secretary—A. G. Favre.
Treasurer—Arthur A. Scafide.
Advocate—Robt. L. Genin.
Warden—Leo Murtagh.
Inside Guard—Gus Ladner.
Outside Guard—A. J. Saucier.
Officers appointed: Rev. Father Gmelch, chaplain; lecturer, E. J. Giering.

Following the beautiful and impressive ceremony of the order, Lecturer E. J. Giering presided in his social duties, a past master, and he also was toastmaster for the banquet that followed later.

The repeat was served on the first story of the K. C. Hall, an ideal and spacious place for the occasion. A number of speakers during the evening, adding to the program and exercises. There were many present to participate in the activities.

A delegation from Gulfport, headed by Grand Knight Dedeaux, of the Gulfport Council, were present, and their addresses were characteristic of the council and the completion of its handsome hall.

Under the administration of Grand Knight Jos. O. Mauffray the local K. C. Home organization have flourished, and both the council, now with a numerous membership, and home, are indeed a credit to the men who have made it possible and to the city as well.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.
A Reply To "An Old Grad."
Dear Mr. Editor:
We noted in the columns of last week's Echo a letter concerning our choosing of class sweaters. We would give it as much publicity as the letter of the Old Grad.

To the Old Grad we wish to say: You never performed a more characteristic action than when you signed Old Grad to your letter, for, indeed, you must be, aged, antiquated, fossilized. It can easily be seen by your epistle that you are absolutely ignorant of modern college habits, entirely unacquainted with the method in which the school is run.

It must interest you to know that the class of 1926 is represented in football by twenty-two men, two-thirds of the class. Nine of these are varsity men and the remainder on the second and third teams. Point out a class in the past which has had such a majority of its men out for football. Furthermore, you can always find those who are unable to take part in this great game, in the vice president's office, in the athletic shops and elsewhere, always working for a bigger and better Stanislaus.

That is the Stanislaus spirit of today, a spirit which may be judged by regarding a short time with its Grads, who are the leaders in all activities. We sincerely invite you to return and compare your own class with ours. However, in this visit, there is a probability that you may find Stanislaus cakes not edible, extremely hard to digest. Lastly, the class of 26 feels that it is second to none.

Our purpose in obtaining these sweaters was to remind us in the years to come of happy days spent at Stanislaus. On our class pins you may see that which no class over to graduate at Stanislaus has put there, the emblem of the Sacred Heart, an ever present reminder of the great good the Brothers have done for us.

BAY CITY HOST TO BANKERS. Get-Better-Acquainted Reception and Dinner at Hotel Weston Thursday Night to Visiting Bankers From New Orleans and Coast.

In order to get better acquainted and to tell of the Mississippi Gulf Coast and its wonderful prospects and present development, the Hancock County Bank and the Merchants Bank and Trust Company, of Bay St. Louis, were joint hosts to about some forty bankers at a reception and dinner at the Hotel Weston Thursday night, Leo W. Seal master of ceremonies and George R. Rea delivering the keynote address of the evening.

It was a most pleasant affair. Bankers from New Orleans and from along the Coast, whose banks do business with one another possibly every day, and the men in more than one instance casually acquainted, met and mingled, and when the evening came to a close everyone knew the other better and took from the Coast, and the New Orleans contingent, about this God-favored Mississippi section.

The banquet at the Hotel Weston was thoroughly enjoyed, the courses interspersed with talks of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, its future and how to better it, the people to quicker and better it, and from the Coast, a man standing for constructive force, always aiming to ameliorate conditions and it was interesting to note, to say nothing of the satisfaction, that the bankers' friends from Louisiana were equally interested in the welfare and future prosperity of the Mississippi Gulf Coast and its people individually and collectively.

MRS. HUREBT DE BEN BAY COMMITTEE IS OWN DETECTIVE IN RECENT ROBBERY

Sees Woman Yesterday Wearing One of Dresses Stolen—Officers Notified and Arrest Followed. House Searched and Much Booty Located.

Deputy Sheriff Theodore Cario, in the office with Sheriff Jos. V. Bon-temps, yesterday morning swore out a warrant for the arrest of Harry Luc, on a charge made out by Hurebt DeBen and his wife, with having in his possession their clothing and other articles stolen from their premises on the beach front during the early part of the summer.

The robbery of the DeBens is well remembered. It occurred one Saturday night while Mr. and Mrs. DeBen were at the Bay-Waveland Club-house helping Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dubuc decorate the clubhouse for some occasion on their return home about midnight Mr. and Mrs. DeBen found their house had been ransacked. On investigation practically all of their clothing, a suitcase, wrist watch and other articles were discovered missing.

There was no clue to the robbery. The DeBens were distressed. They had nothing left but the clothes they wore that night. The robbery was reported to the local officials and a quiet hunt has been sustained ever since, but to no avail.

Mrs. DeBen says: "While in front of Mauffray's store yesterday morning, I saw a woman wearing one of my dresses. I looked well before saying anything. However, it did not take long to convince myself that was my dress. I soon got in communication with the authorities by telephone, and with the aid of others. The woman was arrested and in the meantime a search warrant was sworn out and the house of Harry Luc, residing on the beach here in this place, opposite the beautiful and fashionable Bay-Waveland Clubhouse, was searched. The woman was Harry Luc's wife."

"There," continued Mrs. DeBen, "I found in a trunk all of my belongings and that of my husband. I also found a frame which held my husband's picture always in my home here in this place. My name is written over the frame. The picture of Luc and his wife had taken the place of my husband. Imagine my consternation!"

When the officers called to search the house Luc was resting in bed, about 10:30 o'clock. He told the officers to come in. After the search warrant was read, he pointed to a big trunk, where the missing articles were found.

Sheriff Bontemps' big Buick carried away a lot of other things thought to belong to other people. There was a number of automobile flashlights and other accessories. One woman's beautiful shawl had been missing was found there.

Mrs. DeBen recovered all her belongings, but her beautiful wrist watch, which she prized highly for sentimental value. Luc was arrested by Deputy Carrio and landed in the county jail, where he languishes while this is written, awaiting a hearing.

Mrs. DeBen never forgot her loss. In fact, all summer she was on the look out and has been her own detective. How well she succeeded is told in the foregoing story. Her efforts have also been the means of other stolen property being recovered. In the event conviction follows the public will indeed owe her quite a debt, for all summer from time to time there were many minor robberies and it is about time a halt be made.

MRS. HUREBT DE BEN BAY COMMITTEE VISITS THE FAIR FOR GULF COAST

Special Committee Created by Rotary Club Officially Visits Fair at Gulfport—Conclude Arrangements For Bay St. Louis Exhibit.

Although the weather was anything but inviting Wednesday afternoon, the special committee of five, recently appointed by the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, to arrange for and present an exhibit from the City of Bay St. Louis, in a special booth, and aside from the county's agricultural and women's home work department, journeyed over to Gulfport and completed all arrangements for the special exhibit. Director General Glen Fleming met the committee and together the gentlemen went over all details and the visit was most satisfactory.

Bay St. Louis Rotary booth, representing our city, is located in the main or middle aisle of the vast building, opposite the Hancock county exhibit and not far from the center of the building, where a fountain is located and will form an attractive center. The booth is about 12x12, with pergola roof, to be decorated with electric lights; on each of the four sides of the pergola roof there will be the signs, "City of Bay St. Louis, Rotary Club."

Several Bay St. Louis firms and manufacturers have agreed to have exhibits. In addition the booth will be a reception place as well. Considerable literature will be given away, particularly on Thursday, November 5th, Hancock County Day. A register will keep a record of all visitors.

J. N. Wisner, whose place is one of the very few producing grapefruit, if any other, will have a display of the fruit and give one away to each visitor on the 5th, as long as the supply will last.

A. Scafide & Co., manufacturers of cement block, will exhibit their products. The Bay Mercantile Company, furniture department, will also have an exhibit. Singer, local artistic upholsterer, will also send a piece or two of his fine upholstering, and others have proposed to be represented. The Hotel Weston will have literature to give away and other firms will do the same. Frank Martin promises an effective exhibit of fancy canary birds, Bay St. Louis products.

The plan is to have Bay St. Louis represented and to embrace the advantage of advertising as much as any other of the seven Coast cities. Bay St. Louis, the city proper, has never been represented at the Coast Fair, and the Rotary has made the effort not to have us so conspicuous by our absence. There will be no better advertising.

ENTERTAINMENT AT EDWARDSVILLE SCHOOL SUCCESSFUL.
The entertainment given for the benefit of Edwarsville, School on Saturday night, October 3rd, was a success from start to finish, not only from point of attendance and an evening well spent, but a success financially as well. The entertainment in the form of a box supper and dance was given under the direction of the board of trustees, assisted by Mrs. H. V. Craft, teacher in charge. Refreshments were served and in all the net sum of $85.00 was made, which will be used for repairs and upkeep of the school.

Quite a large crowd was present not only from Bay St. Louis but from Kila, Lakeshore and Waveland, all contributing in some measure to ward the success of our entertainment. Many friends assisted us in ways, and we wish to take this means of thanking one and all who contributed toward our success, and to assure them it is most highly appreciated. Another is expected in the near future.

BAY WOODMEN TO CELEBRATE THANKSGIVING.
Bay St. Louis Woodmen of the World will entertain their Bay St. Louis friends and those from elsewhere on the evening of Saturday, October 31st, at their first Thanksgiving ball, and every effort possible is made to have it the usual Woodmen success.

It was quite thoughtful of the W. O. W. to entertain with a Thanksgiving ball and we feel certain that there will be no better evidence of appreciation than manifested by a large attendance.

Don't forget the W. O. W. Thanksgiving ball.

HAVE YOU ANYTHING TO EXHIBIT?
Business people and the public in general wishing to exhibit their wares or goods manufactured in Bay St. Louis at the Gulf Coast Fair may do so in the Bay St. Louis Booth, without charge. There is much to be exhibited from Bay St. Louis among commercial lines, and parties interested will call on either of the gentlemen comprising the special committee, namely, John Osminech, Chas. A. Breath, George R. Rea, C. G. Moore, Chas. G. Moreau. Telephone No. 3 will bring information. This is an official notice to the public, duly authorized.

TULANE COLORS TRAIL IN DUST OF BAY ST. LOUIS

Local Football Team Defeat Tulane Reserves, 20-6 in a Good Game on Saturday—Rock-a-Chaws Stop Green Wave—Game Has Original Feature.

By H. S. SAUCIER, Echo Staff Reporter.
In the presence of quite a big throng of football fans, Commagere's doughty band of Rock-a-Chaws defeated Tulane Reserves on last Saturday afternoon, October 10th, in a very interesting game on the Rock-a-chaw gridiron.

Being thoroughly impressed with the fact that Tulane's Reserve eleven was composed of trained and seasoned men, Forster Commagere threw his men into the fray with every player alive to the fact that their opponent was a perfect anti-thesis of the team they played the Sunday previous.

Every Man Gave His Best.
Every man was called upon by Captain Bonura to give his best, and they responded enthusiastically to the man. The Little Green Wave, perhaps ranking their opponents as "Prep-Schoolers," soon woke up to the realization that they were up against a foe worthy of any eleven's steel, and one whom they could not defeat.

Commagere used straight football tactics throughout the game, and but for a rally by the visitors at the start of the second half, was never in danger.

S. S. C. Makes Score in First Half.
The Rock-a-Chaws made their scores in the first half and thereafter went on the defensive.
This game was a good test of the team's prowess and proves conclusively that the 1925 Rock-a-Chaws are as classy a team as Stanislaus has ever turned out and their percentage at the end of the season will look big.

Hammond and Flynn stirred for Tulane, while the playing of Glover, Schwartz, Zeambrecher and Fluze was the feature for the Rock-a-Chaws.

Music Was Prominent Feature.
The feature that cannot be overlooked is that of Bro. Oliver's S. S. C. Brass Band, which furnished the music, that was deeply appreciated by everyone present. The entire personnel of the band are enthusiastic and Bro. Oliver is to be congratulated on his accomplishment.

How They Scored.
The dashing Rock-a-Chaws made their first score when but two minutes had passed. Bonura returned the kick-off 35 yards. Several ineffectual attempts resulted in the Rocks punting to Tulane. The oval was recovered by a fumble and pass of 25 yards, Schwartz to Bignone, scored a touchdown. Schwartz missing point kick.

The Rock-a-Chaws did not score again until the second half.

Tulane Awkward in Handling Ball.
The Tulane backs were very awkwardly handling the ball and lost it. The Rocks got within drop-kick distance but failed. Just afterwards, on a recovered fumble, Glover crossed the line for the second touchdown. Schwartz kicked the point.

Schwartz, Bay Boy, Shoots Beautiful Pass.
With less than a minute left of the first half, Schwartz sent a beautiful pass for 40 yards to Glover, who scored for the third marker. Schwartz' drop-kick registered the extra point.

The Tulane team seemed to take on new life at the start of the second half and by straight bucks they marched up the field for a touchdown—which lone effort gave them their only scum of the game, consuming seven minutes of play.

Visitors Desperately Held Defensive.
The visitors desperately held the defensive and with the score against them 20 to 6, stopped the rampant Rock-a-Chaws from further rabbiting it in.

An Original Feature.
A feature of the game was the twenty marching students dressed in red gowns, with each a large letter on his chest and back, the whole forming the words: "Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws."
There's a world of enthusiasm among the students and they are going to back their team to the limit. Well to there's ONE MORE TEAM. Watch Audubon Sunday.

OYSTER BED LEASE SUSTAINED BY COURT.
Ott Brothers and McCaleb, old established raw oyster dealers of Biloxi, who have had control of oyster bedding grounds in the eastern section of the Bay of Biloxi, were given decision on a case in circuit court at Biloxi Wednesday, when Judge White decided that defendant could retain a lease upon oyster bottoms held by them for a period until 1928. The Mississippi Oyster Commission sued the firm for possession of the ground over which a hard fight has been made. Members of the oyster commission were brought into court in connection with the case. An appeal will be taken by the commission to the supreme court.

UP TO THE PRESIDENT.

For more than a year the people of the United States have been forced to witness a disgraceful wrangle among army and navy officers of high rank over matters of grave concern to the national safety.

Of the merits of this or that contention the layman is hardly competent to judge, especially when the supposed experts vociferously express opinions as opposite as the poles. But one thing the taxpayers do know. They know that they are paying a lot of money for national defense and they feel that they are not getting value received. And they want something done about it.

Imagine a big industrial corporation, for example, with its various officials, directors, plant superintendents and sales managers engaged in a public exhibition such as that being staged by the Army and Navy—executives denouncing one another as dishonest and incompetent, material being wrecked, lives being needlessly sacrificed and personnel demoralized. What would the stockholders think or do?

Would they be satisfied with branding a scapegoat or two and whitewashing all the rest? Would they continue to go into their pockets to put up money for such an enterprise? Hardly. They would want to see a strong man take hold of the situation and force the warring factions to accommodate their differences or get out.

The President of the United States is commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy, with ample powers to straighten out his secretaries and bureau chiefs or get rid of them. When some semblance of harmony is restored among the personnel, a definite and co-ordinated plan for the national defense might be worked out, with a good chance of enlisting the support of Congress to make it effective.

It is up to the President to use a firm hand in dealing with the present demoralized condition of our fighting forces. When the present investigations are concluded he will have information upon which to act. It is important that his action be prompt and decisive.

FRENCH DEBT PARLEY.

While no final or definite agreement regarding the payment of France's war debt to the United States resulted from the visit to Washington of the French commission, headed by Finance Minister Caillaux, a tentative plan covering payments for the next five years was proposed by the American commission. This will be submitted to the French government and to Congress for approval.

During the Washington parley several propositions and counter-propositions were advanced by the negotiators, but owing to differences of opinion as to the capacity of France to pay it was found impossible to reach an agreement.

Finally, Secretary Mellon, in behalf of the American commission, proposed that France undertake to pay $40,000,000 a year for five years. This is to be considered as interest only upon the entire debt ($4,025,000,000), or approximately 1 per cent per annum for the initial period.

At the end of five years it is proposed to make a new agreement, based on France's capacity to pay, as may be determined at that time. It is expected, of course, that the rate of interest France shall pay will be gradually increased after the first five years.

Should this temporary five-year proposition be approved by the two governments, it would operate in a manner very similar to the Dawes plan of German reparations, whereby a basis for beginning payments is adopted for the present, but leaving the total amount to be paid as a matter for future determination.

SOME POOR BOYS.

Some sixty years ago a poor Irish immigrant lad landed in New York to make America his home. About ten years later a boy baby was born in a log cabin on a farm in Platte county, Missouri. Nothing very remarkable about either occurrence.

But a few days ago the first boy relinquished his position to the second and all the newspapers of the land made note of the event. William E. Knox, former immigrant lad, was succeeded by Oscar Wells, former farmer boy, as president of the American Bankers' Association.

A year before Knox had succeeded Walter W. Head, born in a little Illinois village, and a former school teacher; Head had followed John H. Puelicher, son of a Milwaukee tanner, and a carpet store clerk before he became a banker.

Thus from the humblest beginnings these men have risen in turn to the presidency of the most powerful bankers' organization in the world. Neither of them had a college education, although Mr. Wells completed his junior college year. This is not to disparage college training, but to illustrate the fact that outstanding success is possible without it.

What these men have accomplished, in spite of early handicaps, should be an inspiration to every forward-looking youth in America.

MUSCLE SHOALS REPORT.

Chairman John C. McKenzie and other members of the commission appointed by the President to study the Muscle Shoals problem, and report a plan for its solution, recently visited the great project on the Tennessee river.

Later the commission assembled in Washington for the purpose of drafting its report for presentation to President Coolidge by November 15, in order that they may study it before making his recommendations to Congress.

In addresses made while in the Muscle Shoals district and in a formal statement issued to the press at Florence, Ala., Chairman McKenzie discussed the situation with surprising freedom. He reiterated his conviction that no plan for the disposition of the dam and nitrate plants would be approved by Congress which did not include the manufacture of fertilizer.

He stated that his commission had been unsuccessful in its efforts to secure co-operation from private corporations with a view to fertilizer manufacture, and declared that unless such co-operation is offered he would recommend continued government ownership and operation of the properties, both for fertilizer manufacture and power distribution.

It is reported that the McKenzie committee is divided over the question that a unanimous report is improbable. New proposals from private corporations are expected to be made, but whether any of these will prove acceptable is uncertain.

It is known that there is a strong element in Congress which is opposed to government operation of the plants under any circumstances, consequently the coming season promises to develop another bitter controversy over the long-standing and vexatious Muscle Shoals problem.

"Do you know the accused?" he was asked.
"Yassuh—dat is, nossuh," he replied, realizing that if he made an affirmative answer he would be disbarred from serving.

"Have you made up your mind as to his guilt or innocence?"
"Oh, no, sah."

WEEKLY ECHOES FROM ST. STANISLAUS.

Rock-a-Chaws Defeat Tulane Reserves.

Last Saturday the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws met and decisively defeated the Tulane Reserves. The final score was 20-6, which goes to prove that the Rocks this year are as good or better than ever before.

In the first quarter the Rocks received. They were held for downs, and Schwartz punted 40 yards to Armstrong, who fumbled, Brignac recovering the ball. On the first play, Schwartz passed 25 yards to Brignac, who crossed the line, the first touchdown being made in the first two and a half minutes of play.

The Rocks scored twice in the second quarter. Armstrong again fumbled a punt. This time Leget recovered and galloped 10 yards to the second marker. Brignac dropped-kicked for the extra point. Tulane kicked off, "Zeke" returning the ball 15 yards and then the Red and Black started a march down the field. With a minute left to play in the first half, Glover caught a beautiful pass of 40 yards and crossed the line for the last Stanislaus touchdown. Schwartz again made the extra point.

To start the second half, Tulane received, and on a series of passes and end runs brought the ball to the one-yard line. Hooker then took the ball over for the only Tulane score of the day.

Schwartz, Glover and Zaunbrecher starred for Stanislaus, while Sentell, Hooper and Flynn were best for Tulane.

The S. S. C. line held up splendidly under the Tulane attack. The Greenies were unable to make one first down through it.

The line-ups:

Esplanade Ties Baby Rock-a-Chaws.

The Stanislaus Reserves and the Esplanade Athletic Club played a C-6 tie game here Sunday. The first quarter was a nip and tuck affair, the ball changing hands frequently because of fumbles. Farnet, of the Esplanades, caught a punt on the Stanislaus 35-yard line and ran through a broken field for a touchdown. In the third quarter Stanislaus threatened the goal several times, but were unable to put it over.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter the ball was in Esplanade territory and by backs through tackle and guard, Stanislaus marched from the 40-yard line for a touchdown.

Leaumont, for Esplanade, did some spectacular running with the ball. His running of the team at quarter was the cause of many good gains. Reed, Monteleone, Ducole, Hunter and Thompson did the best ground gaining for Stanislaus. Stanislaus made 14 first downs, as did Esplanade, but the Baby Rock-a-Chaws were penalized more frequent than Esplanade.

Audubon Next.

The next gridiron battle will be Sunday, the 18th, when the Rock-a-Chaws clash with the strong Audubon Eleven from New Orleans.

This squad includes many fine players who are going to make the Red and Black sweat hard to score. This promises to be a fine game, as Audubon beat us last year, and our team is going to fight to keep Audubon from repeating the victory.

Probable line-ups are:

The game will start at 2:30 sharp.

Fleas and Flies.

Bro. John and Bro. Gabriel are busy putting the small boys in trim for another football season. Soon you will again be able to see the Fleas and Flies playing, and I know everyone is glad, for these little games are very interesting.

As yet we have found no line that could hold "Zeke," our big "Steam Roller." Watch him Sunday.

Saturday, whenever you saw a fellow hit the ground as though Atlas had thrown the World at him, it was just Brandt doing a little tackling.

Billy Gordon showed a world of speed in Saturday's game for the little time he played. This back is going to be hard to stop Sunday.

Whenever a line back is called, our big tackles and guards open a "line" that a wagon could pass through.

Schwartz kicked fine in the Saturday game, his average being better than forty-five yards. And, what is more, he is improving every day.

Tuesday, while getting a little practice, he booted the pigskin on an average of fifty-five yards. The Audubon safety had better play "way back" when Marchie kicks.

We understand from a certain young lady in town that Billy Gordon is playing "draw back" on the football team.

Talk By Bro. Regis.

Monday night Bro. Regis gave the boys of the Senior division a fine talk. His subject was the anonymous letter published in last week's Echo. If the members of Class '26 don't feel proud of their class after this talk, well they have no feelings.

Elocution Class.

Bro. Macarius is forming an elocution class, which is very sure every boy in the Senior class and in the other classes of the high school will join.

The students don't realize the value of training one's self to public speaking. But in the future all of us will appreciate the training we are now receiving.

Dad's Day.

Already we are preparing to make Dad's Day a more wonderful success than last year.

Bro. Edmond, with the help of several willing students, has turned out a great number of circulars inviting the Dads and old students to be with us on November 8.

Ann that is necessary for a great success is the co-operation of the student body and the people of Bay St. Louis, and we are always sure of this.

Columbus Day.

As everyone knows, Monday, the 12th of October, was Columbus Day. In honor of this day, our generous president, Bro. Macarius, gave us a half holiday, and allowed us to attend the picture show Monday night. I assure you that both of these privileges were thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the students.

The Seniors are getting to be social lions. In the last five days we have attended ten dances.

Jokes.

Joke No. 1 is the letter published in last week's Echo, about Class '26."

Foster—Where have you been, "Pig-Foots"?

Pig-Foots—To the infirmary.

Foster—Not sick, I hope.

Pig-Foots—No, sir! I was taking care of my feet.

Cheese—What is Nolo?

Red—Croquet played on horse-back.

Why do they call G. Y. Blaise, a pony?

Because he is the son of a Mayor (mare).

Koch—Bro., isn't Ireland the same as England?

Bro.—Thy name is Sap.

Seen on the blackboard in the eleven grade room: "Columbus died in 1498 at the Charity Hospital in New Orleans."

Bro.—There are three classes in society. The laborers, the middle class, and the rest, you know the millionaires are in the middle.

"Bootleggers!" interrupted Blaise.

Bro.—Strawberry, repeat that question.

Strawberry (aroused from Dream-land)—I didn't hear you, Brother.

Bro.—I see that you have been sitting too close to Blenk Young.

Bro.—What produces the illumination?

Cassidy—The ticking of the clocks.

Bro.—Koch, don't I hear you thinking out loud?

Koch—Brother, you've got the wrong man.

I see by last week's Echo that the Seniors are getting class sweaters to wear to tea. I'm sure that the sweaters will be worn out before Christmas.

May we Seniors aren't getting to be "Flops." Last week we attended seven "mattress balls." The "Washstand Jazzers" furnished the music for all these entertainments, the most popular selection being "Drop by Drop."

We were sporting our class flow-ers around last week. Due to the fact we had been capering on the football field we picked up several beautiful Rock-a-Chaws.

No Guess-Work Here

Most folks know that getting eggs depends largely upon the hen's feed—Yet with many people feeding is guess-work. Their hen's lay part of the time and usually "board" when eggs are most profitable.

More Eggs or Money Back

The guarantee behind Purina Hen Chow and Chicken Chowder eliminates all guess-work. These Chows have all the elements that make eggs. That's why they are offered on a money-back guarantee.

WORK AND PLAY

AT S. J. A.

In Honor of Mother St. Rose.

The Playawhites had selected an interesting program to welcome Mother St. Rose, whom we had hoped would spend a few weeks in our midst.

Our dismay was unbounded when we learned Mother would leave us on Wednesday morning. In spite of the short time in which to prepare a program the "minute men" of our club practiced and produced an attractive pantomime, "Bluebeard."

Columbus Day.

The play was followed by the flag-raising. The pole, donated by the Seniors of '25, is an ornament to the Convent. The whole school took part in the program, consisting chiefly of patriotic numbers. The flag was blessed by Very Rev. Father Gmelch.

We extend our thanks to Class '25 for the neat flag pole and to the Sixth and Seventh Grades for the beautiful flag.

Literary Debating Club.

The S. J. A. Literary Debating Club held its first debate on Wednesday, October 7th. The subject was "Resolved, That the 19th is the greatest of centuries." The speakers on the affirmative were Bessie Batson, Alice Blaise; on the negative, Caroline Logan and Mary Seafide.

The debate was hotly contested. The best speaker was Bessie Batson. After the discussion, "Resolved, That the Debating Club is uninteresting and therefore should be abolished," was chosen as the subject for our next debate.

Dramatic Club.

The Playawhites were reorganized Friday, October 2nd. Its members include the Senior and Juniors. Alice Blaise was chosen to lead this distinguished organization on the road to fame, while Mary Seafide is to write its history in "minutes" form and to guard its earthly treasure. (As yet last mentioned is a minus quantity.)

A number of interesting programs have been planned. Our first public performance will be given October 28th, in the Convent auditorium, at 7:30. All who enjoyed the burlesque of "Hamlet" will appreciate "Bluebeard." Everyone is invited. Don't forget the twenty-eighth! Follow the crowd to the Convent Auditorium October 28th and be sure of a good time.

Social Workers Again.

Our American Flag, which was blessed and raised on Columbus Day, was given to the academy by the pupils of the Sixth and Seventh grades. These little Social Workers, as they are called, fully deserve their name, for they are always ready to do some work that will aid in building up S. J. A.

Initiation of Freshmen.

October 8th, 1925—a date that will long be remembered by the Freshmen! Initiation!! A word they dreaded, despised for reasons best known to themselves! How patiently they awaited the doom passed upon them by the Seniors!

On the morning of the expected day a wave of something resembling grass swept over S. J. A. Upon closer inspection, this wave proved to be Freshmen wearing baby caps tied under their chins with green ribbons. Cupid seemed to have changed the shape of his bow if we judge by the Freshmen lips. They seemed to belong to the "Odd Fellows" Club, for each wore unmatched coverings on their pedal extremities. Rules that were to be observed for one week were placed on the blackboards of their class room.

In the evening the Freshies were ushered into the study hall, where the ceremonies were completed. The best enjoyed number of the program was refreshments. We refrain from relating the story concerning it for fear the Freshies may get hungry and want more.

"Ode to a Mosquito."

Dear little insect—gray and slender, Here I pen these lines to you, Hoping you will grace the sender With an absent card or two. 'Tis not that I do here insult you, For from that I would refrain, Lest you, perhaps, would attempt to Call on your old friend again. What grand and mighty celebration Can you possibly have called? With strict attendance and elation, You have all of us appaled. We have ever tried and aimed to be Kind to dumb and harmless things; But in truth will all agree, There's nothing harmless in your stings.

We'll all gladly be your friends And the past we will forgive, If only you will make amends By trying to the better live. But be sure you understand And get our bargain straight, We're tired of this infernal place Of playing mosquito bait.

—Bessie Batson.

Where Can We Find—

William the Silent?
A good dog specialist?
The Juniors' pencils?
A correct answer book?
Bluebeard's beard?
Vivian's old dorian?
A certain Senior's and Junior's hearts?

—Class '26.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen—William the Silent.

At the beginning of the session every proud Sophomore wore a cheerful smile on her countenance, but this has now turned into mourning. We have discovered that one of our most prominent members is absent, and we are heartbroken. Time, the great healer, soothes not the aching void caused by the nonappearance of William the Silent.

The history of William reaches back to the year '22, when the dignified Seniors were Freshies. They asked his name, but—maybe could not answer, so he has since been called "William the Silent." They resolved to make him a useful character, so placed him in a very honorable position in the class room, where he was the source of much joy, to teachers and pupils.

At the beginning of this school term we decided to present him to the Seniors as a gift from the Sophomores, but Alas! William has disappeared. We have searched S. J. A., looking under beds, tables, chairs, in desks and in the attic, but in vain. He cannot be found.

We have of late wondered if it could be possible that the smart and dignified Seniors found out our plans and are playing a joke on us by abducting him.

Please, some one, each one, every one or any one, give us assistance in finding the person we are longing for, "Our Poor William."

The Sophomores are offering a great reward to the one who returns him in perfect condition, even to his last tooth. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be gladly appreciated and properly rewarded.

I thank you.

"Sympathy."

The faculty and student body of S. J. A. are very glad to learn that Melville Meinacker has recovered from her recent illness. She was stricken suddenly Sunday evening, where she received immediate attention. We are happy to state, however, that she had recovered sufficiently Monday morning to resume her studies. Try it again, Melv!
